

California Bungalow Reimagined

ATTIC
GROUP

Alison and Daniel needed to extend their period home to more comfortably accommodate their growing family.

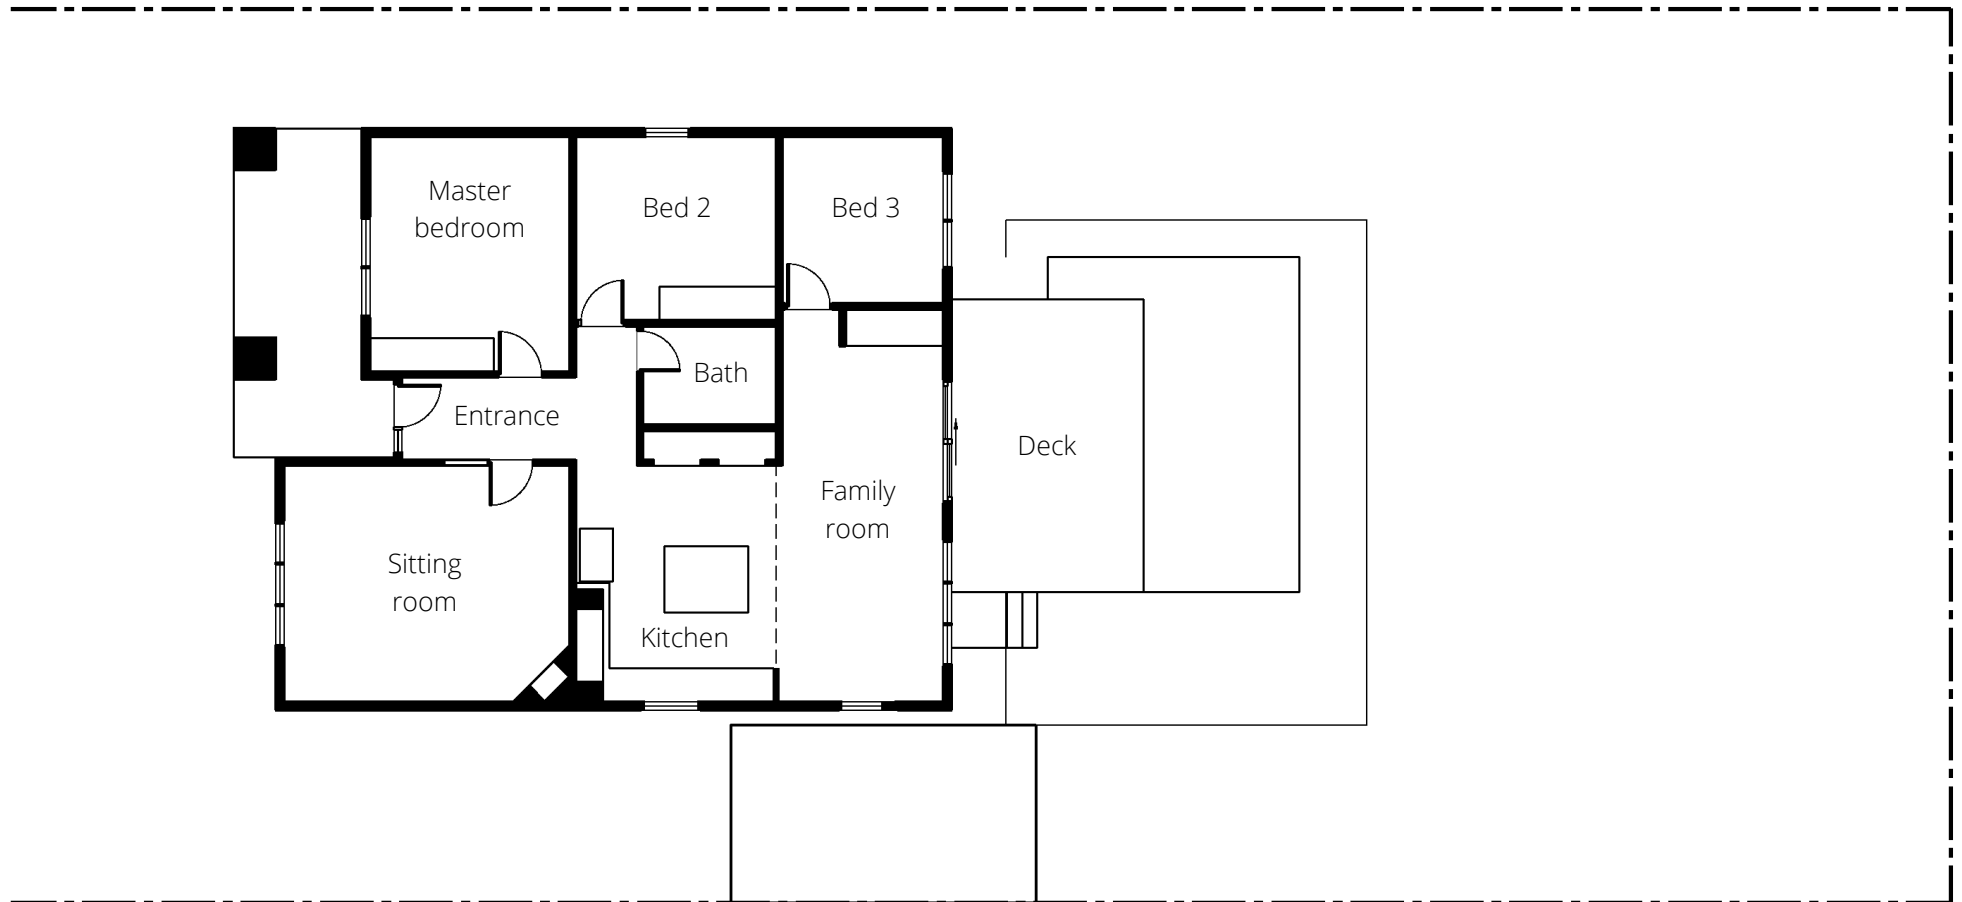

Extending both upwards and to the rear, they favoured retaining the California Bungalow style and sensibility, rather than adopting a more modernist and contrasting design.

The architect-designed attic extension was constructed under the watchful eye of the Attic Group's professional project management team, employing a process specially crafted to minimise disruptions to Alison and Daniel's family.

"We wanted an extension that was sympathetic and complementary to the original house. We're quite particular, that's our nature, and we're quite fussy, and we're quite critical, but we could definitely recommend the Attic Group."

— Daniel

"We have a bit of an ongoing joke, and I say to Dan, 'have I told you today how much I love this house?' It really is a dream come true for me. And I think, the Attic Group, we have to give them huge credit."

— Alison
